The New Pension Playbook:
Modern Strategies for Today's Finance Officers

GFOA New England States Conference
Providence, RI
September 28, 2026

This information is provided solely for educational purposes and is not to be construed as investment, legal or tax advice. Prior to acting on this information, we recommend that you seek independent advice specific to your situation from a qualified investment/legal/tax professional.
© 2026 USI Consulting Group. All rights reserved.

Today's panel

MODERATOR

Daniel R. Casella

Vice President
USI Retirement Consulting

Robert P. Lessard, ASA, EA, MAAA

Assistant Vice President and Consulting Actuary
USI Retirement Consulting
Rob.Lessard@usi.com

Frederica S. Daniels, FCA, EA, MAAA

Vice President, Managing Actuary
USI Retirement Consulting
Fredi.Daniels@usi.com

George J. Kasper

Member
Pullman & Comley LLC
gkasper@pullman.com

PULLMAN &COMLEY

This information is provided solely for educational purposes and is not to be construed as investment, legal or tax advice. Prior to acting on this information, we recommend that you seek independent advice specific to your situation from a qualified investment/legal/tax professional.

- What has changed in the public pension landscape?
- Pensions as a recruitment and retention tool
- Technology and benefit visibility
- Funding and long-term stability
- Governance and fiduciary oversight
- Maximizing the value of RFPs

This information is provided solely for educational purposes and is not to be construed as investment, legal or tax advice. Prior to acting on this information, we recommend that you seek independent advice specific to your situation from a qualified investment/legal/tax professional.

Reach out to any of the panel members to continue the conversation

This information is provided solely for educational purposes and is not to be construed as investment, legal or tax advice. Prior to acting on this information, we recommend that you seek independent advice specific to your situation from a qualified investment/legal/tax professional.